Provisions of the Civil-service Retirement Act Approved May 22, 1920 Forgotten Books

Excerpt from Salary and Wage Tables To find the amount due at an hourly rate, ascertain the number of hours that service was rendered, turn to the rate paid, and opposite the number of hours for which payment is due will be found the amount. If the column headed Hours does not give the exact number, continue across the table from the nearest number to the fraction of a day necessary to equal the full number. For example, to find the amount due for 151 hours, at 19 cents per hour, turn to the table bearing that rate, run the eye down the column headed Hours to the nearest number, which is 144, and across to the column headed which is the 7 hours necessary to make 151, and you find the amount.
