The National Book Award Finalist from acclaimed New York Times bestselling author Francine Prose—now the major motion picture Submission “Screamingly funny ... Blue Angel culminates in a sexual harassment hearing that rivals the Salem witch trials.” —USA Today It's been years since Swenson, a professor in a New England creative writing program, has published a novel. It's been even longer since any of his students have shown promise. Enter Angela Argo, a pierced, tattooed student with a rare talent for writing. Angela is just the thing Swenson needs. And, better yet, she wants his help. But, as we all know, the road to hell is paved with good intentions. Deliciously risqué, Blue Angel is a withering take on today's academic mores and a scathing tale that vividly shows what can happen when academic politics collides with political correctness.

Verbrechersuche in der Kellergasse: Im Weinviertel treibt ein Mörder sein Unwesen. Schauplatz östliches Weinviertel im Grenzgebiet Österreichs und der Slowakei Das Weinviertel mit seiner malerischen Landschaft und seinem ursprünglichen Charakter ist seit jeher Anziehungspunkt für Liebhaber von Wein und für Naturfreunde. Und seit kurzem auch für Verbrecher: Mit der Beschaulichkeit des Dorflebens ist es nämlich schlagartig vorbei, als eine tote Frau in den Weinviertler Marchauen gefunden wird. Keiner weiß, wer sie ist und warum sie sterben musste. Erich Zillinger, Polizeipostenkommandant in Angern an der March, bekommt den Fall der unbekanntenen Toten übertragen. Na Prost, noch ein Toter! Wäre der Tod der jungen Frau nicht schon tragisch genug, kündigt sich schon neues Unheil an. Die Bewohner der Kellergassen sind in Aufruhr. Nicht nur Weinviertler Wein, sondern auch weiteres Blut droht vergossen zu werden: In der Region treibt ein brutaler Bankräuber sein Unwesen. Sein erstes Opfer lässt nicht lange auf sich warten. Hat er auch etwas mit dem Mord an der Frau aus den Marchauen zu tun? Zwischen den sanften Hügeln des Weinviertels braut sich ein gefährliches Gewitter zusammen ... Mörderisches Treiben vor der Kulisse malerischer Weinberge Unmittelbar vor den Toren Wiens

erstreckt sich das Weinviertel: Die Grenzregion in Niederösterreich ist für kulinarischen Genuss, liebevolle Landschaft und gemütliches Beisammensein beim Heurigen bekannt. Mit viel Lokalkolorit lässt Presshaus-Besitzer und Autor Peter C. Huber die Atmosphäre von Österreichs wohl schönster Weinregion erzittern.

This "gorgeously written" National Book Award finalist is a dazzling, heart-rending story of an oil rig worker whose closest friend goes missing, plunging him into isolation and forcing him to confront his past (NPR, One of the Best Books of the Year). One night aboard an oil drilling platform in the Atlantic, Waclaw returns to his cabin to find that his bunkmate and companion, Mátyás, has gone missing. A search of the rig confirms his fear that Mátyás has fallen into the sea. Grief-stricken, he embarks on an epic emotional and physical journey that takes him to Morocco, to Budapest and Mátyás's hometown in Hungary, to Malta, Italy, and finally to the mining town of his childhood in Germany. Waclaw's encounters along the way with other lost and yearning souls—Mátyás's angry, grieving half-sister; lonely rig workers on shore leave; a truck driver who watches the world change from his driver's seat—bring us closer to his origins while also revealing the problems of a globalized economy dependent on waning natural resources. High as the Waters Rise is a stirring exploration of male intimacy, the nature of memory and grief, and the cost of freedom—the story of a man who stands at the margins of a society from which he has profited little, though its functioning depends on his labor.

Armer Hakim. Erst musste er mit seiner Familie aus Syrien flüchten. Dann wollte ihm niemand im Weinviertler Dorf Niederfeld Unterkunft gewähren. Nur der Rote Bär, wie die groß- und warmherzige Eigentümerin eines berüchtigten, rotlichtigen Etablissements genannt wurde, erbarmte sich seiner. Und sie war es schließlich auch, die Hakim vor der Polizei versteckte, als seine Frau Jasina plötzlich verschwand und sich im ganzen Dorf das Gerücht eines Ehrenmordes verbreitete. Auch in ihrem 4. Fall schafft es Hemma Thom, die Mesnerin und Organistin von Niederfeld, Licht ins Dunkel zu bringen. Wie immer verlässt sie sich auf ihr treffsicheres Gespür, auf ihre ungewöhnliche Beziehung zur Himmelmutter. Und auf Hubert den Polizeichef, ihren heimlichen Verehrer.

Designed for a one-semester undergraduate course in continuous linear systems, Continuous Signals and Systems with MATLAB®, Second Edition presents the tools required to design, analyze, and simulate dynamic systems. It thoroughly describes the process of the linearization of nonlinear systems, using MATLAB® to solve most examples and problems. With updates and revisions throughout, this edition focuses more on state-space methods, block diagrams, and complete analog filter design. New to the Second Edition • A chapter on block diagrams that covers various classical and state-space configurations • A completely revised chapter that uses MATLAB to illustrate how to design, simulate, and implement analog filters • Numerous new examples from a variety of engineering disciplines, with an emphasis on electrical and electromechanical engineering problems Explaining the subject matter through easy-to-follow mathematical development as well as abundant examples and problems, the text covers signals, types of systems, convolution, differential equations, Fourier series and transform, the Laplace transform, state-space representations, block diagrams, system linearization, and analog filter design. Requiring no prior fluency with MATLAB, it enables students to master both the concepts of continuous linear systems and the use of MATLAB to solve problems.

NEW YORK TIMES NOTABLE BOOK A literary crime thriller with “a clever plot that always surprises, told with dark humor and dry wit” (The New York Times Book Review, Editor’s Choice), this brilliant debut follows a famous author whose wife—the brains behind his success—meets an untimely death, leaving him to deal with the consequences. Henry Hayden seems like someone you might admire, or even come to think of as a friend. A famous bestselling author. A loving and devoted husband. A generous and considerate neighbor. But Henry Hayden is a construction, a mask. His past is a secret, his methods more so. Only he and his wife know that she is the actual writer of the novels that made him famous. When his hidden-in-plain-sight mistress becomes pregnant, it seems his carefully conceived façade is about to crumble. And on a rain-soaked night at the edge of a dangerous cliff, his permanent solution becomes his most terrible mistake. Now not only are the police after Henry but his past—which he has painstakingly kept hidden—threatens to catch up with him as well. Henry is an ingenious man, and he works out an ingenious plan, weaving lies, truths, and half-truths into a story that might help him survive. Still, the noose tightens. Smart, sardonic, and compulsively readable, this is the story of a man whose cunning allows him to evade the consequences of his every action, even when he’s standing on the edge of the abyss.

Between Germany and Russia is a region strewn with monuments to the horrors of war, genocide and disaster – the bloodlands where the murderous regimes of Hitler and Stalin unleashed the violence that scarred the twentieth century and shaped so much of the world we know today. In September 2016 the German-Iranian writer Navid Kermani set out to discover this land and to travel along the trenches that are now re-emerging in Europe, from his home in Cologne through eastern Germany to the Baltics, and from there south to the Caucasus and to Isfahan in Iran, the home of his parents. This beautifully written travel diary, enlivened by conversations with the people Kermani meets along the way, brings to life the tragic history of these troubled lands and shows how this history leaves its traces in the present. It will be of great interest to anyone concerned with current affairs and with the events that have shaped, and continue to shape, the world in which we live today.
